HEADLINE: Ronald D. Monson joins PRG Real Estate as Chief Operating Officer

PRG Real Estate Management is pleased to announce that Ronald D. Monson has joined the company as Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Monson brings more than twenty years of operations experience to the PRG organization. His experience overseeing large residential portfolios and creating the internal infrastructure to support fast growth is seen as a boon to PRG's active acquisitions strategy.

Prior to joining PRG, Mr. Monson was the Chief Operating Officer at Morgan Properties, a Philadelphia-based real estate investment, development and management company. At Morgan, Ron oversaw an executive team that comprised finance, training, marketing, human resources and operations for residential and corporate housing. He presided over a period of growth that more than doubled the company's size.

Mr. Monson enjoyed a significant tenure with AIMCO, the nation's largest owner and operator of apartment communities. Starting as the regional Vice President of Florida, where his portfolio doubled in size in twelve months, Ron quickly moved into the roles of Senior Vice President, Midwest Division and subsequently, the Western Division. In 2001, Mr. Monson became the Executive Vice President for all conventional properties at AIMCO. In this capacity, Ron was the senior operations manager responsible for all of the leasing, maintenance, customer service and the administration of AIMCO's conventional properties portfolio of 700 communities. Mr. Monson stayed with AIMCO until early 2006 when he joined Morgan Properties.

A Minnesota native, Mr. Monson received his Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Minnesota and his MBA in marketing from Georgia State University. He began his real estate career at Great Atlantic Management in Orlando, Florida where he was responsible for a mix of residential and commercial properties across Florida and Georgia.

PRG Real Estate is a dynamic investment and management firm, focused entirely on high potential multifamily communities. The PRG portfolio consists of communities in primarily suburban locations throughout the nation. Founded in 1985 with a geographic focus from Pennsylvania to Florida, PRG's reach has grown as far west as Texas and north to Illinois.
